

ARBS INDUSTRY AWARDS 2024
PROMOTIONAL STATEMENT AND ENTRY CRITERIA

Outstanding Industry Education/Training Award

Recognising an outstanding contribution to training, education and leadership within the Air Conditioning, Refrigeration and Building Services industry. Entries need to provide details of the course development and design, whether theoretical or practical, and provide evidence of the implementation and long-term effect of training (e.g. productivity improvements, increase in profits etc). Companies will be judged by their contribution to the HVAC&R industry, not by their size.

ENTRY REQUIREMENTS

- Open to individuals, institutions or companies - includes undergraduate and postgraduate training, technical, managerial or internal training
- Provider can self-nominate or be nominated
- Training must be delivered in Australia

OTHER REQUIREMENTS

- Full name, company, address and contact details of nominee

ENTRY CRITERIA

- Provide a 200-word summary of what makes this program stand out and why, including its significance to the HVAC&R industry
- What was the driving force behind your contribution to training (investment, objectives)?
- Describe your training program, including numbers undertaken, and how it is delivered (the process, resources, collaboration)
- What are the benefits (attach supporting materials to demonstrate outcomes)?
- How does it solve a problem, overcome a challenge (innovation)?
- Demonstrate how the success of the program has been measured (provide figures or evidence of success)
- What is the impact on industry, regulation or the community?

ARBS INDUSTRY AWARDS 2024

NOMINATION INFORMATION

The ARBS Industry Awards is a national collaborative effort by all major HVAC&R & Building Services associations to showcase excellence in the Australian Air Conditioning, Refrigeration and building services industry.

All Award finalists and winners will be determined by a panel of judges with extensive knowledge and expertise in the ARBS sector with Award winners being presented at the event's Gala Dinner on Wednesday 29 May 2024 at the ICC Ballroom, Sydney.

The awards are open to any individual, private or public companies or organisations, who have contributed to the Australian HVAC&R and Building Services industry, for example via research, design, manufacture, supply, distribution, installation, implementation, maintenance, servicing, education and training. This includes multi-national and international subsidiaries, government departments, educators, agencies or bodies, franchisors and non-government organisations. Eligible entries must have proof of performance validation within Australia.

TIMELINE:

Entries open: Tuesday 1 August 2023

Entries close: 5pm Friday 17 November 2023

Award Finalists revealed: Early to mid March 2024

Award Winners Announced: at the Gala Dinner on Wednesday 29th May 2024 at the ICC Ballroom, Sydney

AWARD CATEGORIES:

- Young Achiever Award
- Product Excellence Award – HVAC
- Product Excellence Award - Refrigeration
- Project Excellence Award
- Software/Digital Excellence Award
- Industry Education/Training Award

HOW TO ENTER

1. Download the selection criteria from www.arbs.com.au. It is not mandatory to answer all questions in the selection criteria if some are not relevant to your application, however, keep in mind they are designed to address the judging criteria.
2. Submit your entry via the ARBS website www.arbs.com.au. Entries must address the selection criteria and include supporting documentation.
3. Entrants may apply for multiple categories, however, separate nomination forms must be completed. Previous entrants who did not receive an ARBS Industry Award are eligible to re-enter if the product or project is still relevant (conditions apply).
4. Receipt of all entries will be confirmed by email.
5. Nominations open on Tuesday 1 August 2023 and close at 5pm Friday 17 November 2023.

APPLICATION TIPS

1. The 200-word summary should provide a synopsis of all information in the submission and why it is deserving of the award. Explanations and evidence follow in the main body of text. Summary may also be used for publicity purposes.
2. Structure your submission around the key points in the selection criteria. Demonstrate what makes your entry outstanding, including proof and evidence of performance and/or outcomes. Refer to submission template for more information.
3. How is your entry excellent or innovative - a new way of thinking or doing something, setting new standards and/or overcoming challenges etc?
4. Be succinct. Judges prefer applications that are clear, concise and direct to the point.
5. Be enthusiastic about your entry. It is contagious.
6. Be neat. Presentation is taken into consideration.
7. Demonstrate or provide proof of key outcomes/results in your submission.
8. It is very important to include supporting evidence, statistics, graphs, illustrations, videos and pictures to the entry. Reference all attachments so they are easily located.
9. Owner's consent needs to include authorisation to enter into the competition, for possible onsite visits, photographs and publicity.
10. Receipts and correspondence will be sent to the email address provided. It is your responsibility to ensure all contact details are correct.

TERMS & CONDITIONS OF ENTRY

General

1. The awards are open to any individual, private or public companies or organisations, who have contributed to the Australian Air Conditioning, Refrigeration and Building Services (ARBS) industry, for example via research, design, manufacture, supply, distribution, installation, implementation, maintenance and servicing. This includes multi-national and international subsidiaries, government departments, agencies or bodies, franchisors and non-government (private) organisations. Eligible entries must have proof of performance validation within Australia.
2. Nominated entries must have the consent of the nominee. All nominations submitted on behalf of a company or organisation must be provided by an authorised employee or member of the organisation entering the awards. If the nominations are on behalf of two or more organisations, the entry should be in joint names.
3. All entries must be submitted in English and include a completed nomination form and submission.
4. Applicants warrant that their entry into the competition will not infringe any national or international copyright, trademark or intellectual property laws.
5. ARBS Exhibitions Ltd and award sponsors are authorised to publish, display, broadcast, and use the entrant's name, media summary, images, trade names, trademarks and logos for purposes related to the awards freely, without royalties or payment.
6. Winners and short-listed entrants are entitled to use the ARBS Awards Industry logo, category and name for promotional purposes.
7. ARBS Exhibitions Ltd is not liable under any circumstance for any damage, infringement or violation affecting the property rights of the nominee, an organisation or an individual. ARBS Exhibitions Ltd is not liable for any errors/omissions during the publicity campaign.
8. Awards entrants and participants agree not to take any legal action before, during or after the awards program with respect to:
 - a. any decision of the ARBS Awards Committee, judges or ARBS Exhibitions Ltd
 - b. any of its members, representatives, judges or sponsors, in respect to:
 - i. entrants and entry selection
 - ii. submission assessment and evaluation
 - iii. the selection of applicants, judges, terms and conditions, sponsors or other decisions concerning the award/s
9. Completed submissions must be lodged via the online submission form by no later than 5pm Friday 17th November 2023.

JUDGING

1. ARBS Exhibitions Ltd will select a panel of judges with extensive knowledge and expertise in the HVAC&R and building services sector, who are bound by a strict code of conduct. ARBS Exhibitions Ltd does not have to disclose the judges' identities.
2. Members of ARBS Exhibitions Ltd, award judges and their immediate families may not directly enter into the competition. Members of the judging panel who are employed by an organisation that applies for an award will not evaluate or review said organisation's entry. Members of the judging panel who are employed by an organisation that sponsors the awards program will not evaluate or review said organisation's entry.
3. Judging is based on the information provided - how well the assessment criterion is met, not by comparison to competitors. In some instances, judges may request further substantiation from an applicant at any time. Misleading information will lead to automatic disqualification of a nominee.
4. The judges may merge or eliminate categories at their discretion should entries not reach the quality standard for the competition. They may also reclassify an entry. Entrants will be notified in this instance.
5. The judges' decision will be final and no correspondence will be entered into.
6. Applications will not be returned.